

Full Stack Web Developer

Quickly Improve Your Skills by Learning Tons Building Custom Software
in a Fun & Stable Position

offensiva, a Bialystok-located, polish, development agency has an exclusive joint-venture with an international group of companies to handle all of their development needs. To fuel this partnership, we're looking for a Full Stack Developer to join our team.

Required Tech Skills:

- HTML5, CSS3
- JS (jQuery / AngularJS)
- Responsive web design (based on Twitter Bootstrap mainly)
- PHP5 (or 7) & MySQL
- OOP (Object Oriented Programming) with basic design patterns

Other Requirements:

- Positive attitude and testing before deploying
- Fluent english is mandatory

Bonus Requirements (not mandatory)

- Zend Framework 2
- Doctrine ORM
- GIT
- JIRA
- Web Services / APIs integration & creation
- Unix/Debian
- NGINX
- Unit testing
- UI implementation best practices, basic design skills
- Design is a huge plus, but not required

You'll learn more in the next year, than you have in all of university. And have the chance to work on several cutting edge projects. We build a lot of custom software. You'll be based in our Bialystok office working 1:1 with our CTO... But you'll also have full support from our international team that handles all business operations.

You'll work on a wide variety of interesting and challenging projects -- from contributing to a new SaaS product to building out marketing campaigns. And you'll get to see the immediate business impact of your contributions, as they affect revenue (and your bonuses as well!).

You'll have steady work, a fun, easy-going team. Where you get to solve complex problems and sharpen your skills...

This position will start contract but can grow into a dream career with full time employment, benefits, vacation, bonuses, paid training, and more, where you're constantly learning, getting better and paid what you're worth.
